International Conference at Charles University, March 2023 The Bologna Process: Benefits, Challenges, and Opportunities

On Tuesday, March 14, 2023, the conference The Bologna Process: Benefits, Challenges, and Opportunities took place at Charles University, under the auspices of the Eastern Partnership University Cluster.

The aim of the conference was to assemble experiences and to share best practices regarding the increasing comparability in the standards and quality of university education and promoting meaningful student and academic mobilities and joint educational endeavors between the EU universities and the universities of Eastern Partnership countries. Combining keynote lectures and roundtable discussions, the objective was to facilitate increased cooperation at all levels among the partner institutions. Among the topics addressed was the importance of the Bologna process for the Erasmus exchange, the problems of joint degrees, and the general problem of divergencies and specificities with certain study fields and in respective national contexts.

The conference was attended by prominent personalities of European partner universities, representatives of the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports of the Czech Republic, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic, and the European Commission, as well as the diplomatic corps.
